How much does a flat steel cable tray cost in Guatemala

Overview

Cable tray pricing depends on materials, coatings, size, supplier margins, and order quantity —plus hidden costs like shipping and installation.

Key Takeaways

Steel cable trays in Guatemala typically cost between $5 and $25 per meter, depending on material, type, and finish.

Price Range

The cost of a steel cable tray varies based on material, coating, and design. Basic steel trays generally range from $5 to $25 per meter, with higher-end options, such as stainless steel or trays with special coatings, costing more. Hot-dip galvanized ladder-type trays, commonly used for durability, are priced based on standard lengths (e.g., 2.

4 meters) and may fall within this range. Aluminum trays are more expensive, typically $20–$50 per meter, due to their corrosion resistance.

Factors Affecting Cost

Material: Galvanized steel is cost-effective and durable, stainless steel is more expensive, and aluminum is lightweight but pricier. Coating: Powder-coated or HDG finishes increase durability and cost. Pre-galvanized trays are cheaper but less durable in corrosive environments.

Size and Type: Ladder trays are stronger and cost more, while perforated or wire mesh trays are cheaper. Supplier and Quantity: Bulk orders or local suppliers in Guatemala may offer discounts. Shipping and Installation: Heavier trays increase transport costs, and labor costs vary by region.

Local Suppliers in Guatemala

Several suppliers and manufacturers operate in Guatemala, including Brilltech Engineers and Jeetmull Jaichandlall, who provide cable trays and fittings and can offer quotes based on project requirements. Contacting local suppliers directly is recommended to obtain precise pricing, including shipping and installation.

Cost-

Saving Tips

Buy in bulk to reduce per-meter cost. Select alternative materials like perforated trays if load requirements allow. Compare multiple suppliers to find competitive pricing.

Plan ahead to avoid peak construction season price surges. In summary, for a flat steel cable tray in Guatemala, expect to pay approximately $5–$25 per meter, with the final price influenced by material, coating, size, and supplier. Contacting local suppliers will provide the most accurate and up-to-date pricing.
