Key Takeaways

High-grade indoor distribution boxes in Bahrain are available from trusted suppliers like Ascon Control WLL, Coloria, Haji Ali Haji Group, and Bahra Electric, offering IP-rated, IEC-compliant enclosures for reliable electrical distribution.

Key Suppliers and Options

Ascon Control WL

L manufactures indoor and outdoor junction boxes and circuit breaker enclosures tailored to customer requirements, with attention to internal cable space and bending radius. Their products comply with IP31/54/55/65 and NEMA 4/4X standards, ensuring durability and protection for indoor installations in Bahrain. Coloria provides high-performance distribution boxes suitable for indoor residential and commercial applications.

Their indoor units typically feature IP54 protection, safeguarding against dust and splashes, and can include optional smart modules for remote monitoring, overload alerts, and energy optimization. These boxes are designed to withstand the Gulf's high temperatures and occasional sand exposure. Haji Ali Haji Group (HAHCO) offers a wide range of electrical materials, including LV switchgear and distribution boxes, with a strong reputation for quality and reliability in Bahrain and the GCC.

Their products cater to both residential and commercial projects, ensuring compliance with local and international standards. Bahra Electric produces distribution boards for indoor use that conform to IEC 61439-1&3 standards, providing dependable circuit protection against overloads and short circuits. Their boards are suitable for residential and commercial environments, with surface-mounted or flush-mounted options available.

Features to Consider

Ingress Protection (IP) Ratings: IP54 for indoor use, IP65/IP66 for harsher environments. Compliance: IEC 60529 and IEC 61439 standards ensure safety and reliability. Durability: Powder-coated or high-grade polyester enclosures resist corrosion and wear.

Smart Integration: Optional modules for energy monitoring and remote alerts. Capacity: Configurable for number of ways, phases, and breaker types.

Availability and Pricing

Distribution boxes can be purchased directly from suppliers or online platforms like Qetaat.com, with prices ranging from approximately BHD 16 to BHD 162 depending on size, features, and brand.

Conclusion

For high-grade indoor distribution boxes in Bahrain, selecting a supplier that offers IP-rated, IEC-compliant, and durable enclosures is essential. Companies like Ascon Control WLL, Coloria, Haji Ali Haji Group, and Bahra Electric provide reliable options suitable for residential, commercial, and industrial applications, with additional features such as smart monitoring available for modern building requirements.
