Key Takeaways

High-quality steel cable trays in Switzerland typically range from CHF 50 to CHF 250 per meter, depending on material, load capacity, and finish.

Overview of Pricing Factors

The cost of steel cable trays varies based on several key factors: Material and Finish: Stainless steel or hot-dipped galvanized trays are more expensive than pre-galvanized or standard steel due to corrosion resistance and durability. Load Capacity: Light-duty trays are generally cheaper, while medium and heavy-duty trays designed for industrial applications can cost significantly more. Dimensions: Widths range from 50mm to 600mm, and lengths are typically 1m or 3m.

Larger or custom sizes increase the price. Accessories: Couplers, bends, tees, lids, and risers add to the overall cost of installation. Standards Compliance: Trays meeting DIN EN 61537 or equivalent international standards may carry a premium due to quality assurance.

Estimated Price Ranges Light-duty steel trays: CHF 50–80 per meter Medium-duty trays: CHF 80–150 per meter Heavy-duty or XL trays: CHF 150–250 per meter These prices reflect high-quality Swiss or European steel products suitable for industrial and commercial installations.
