Sri Lankan optical module manufacturer

Overview

The competitive landscape in Sri Lanka is evolving, with both local manufacturers and international players vying for market share.

Key Takeaways

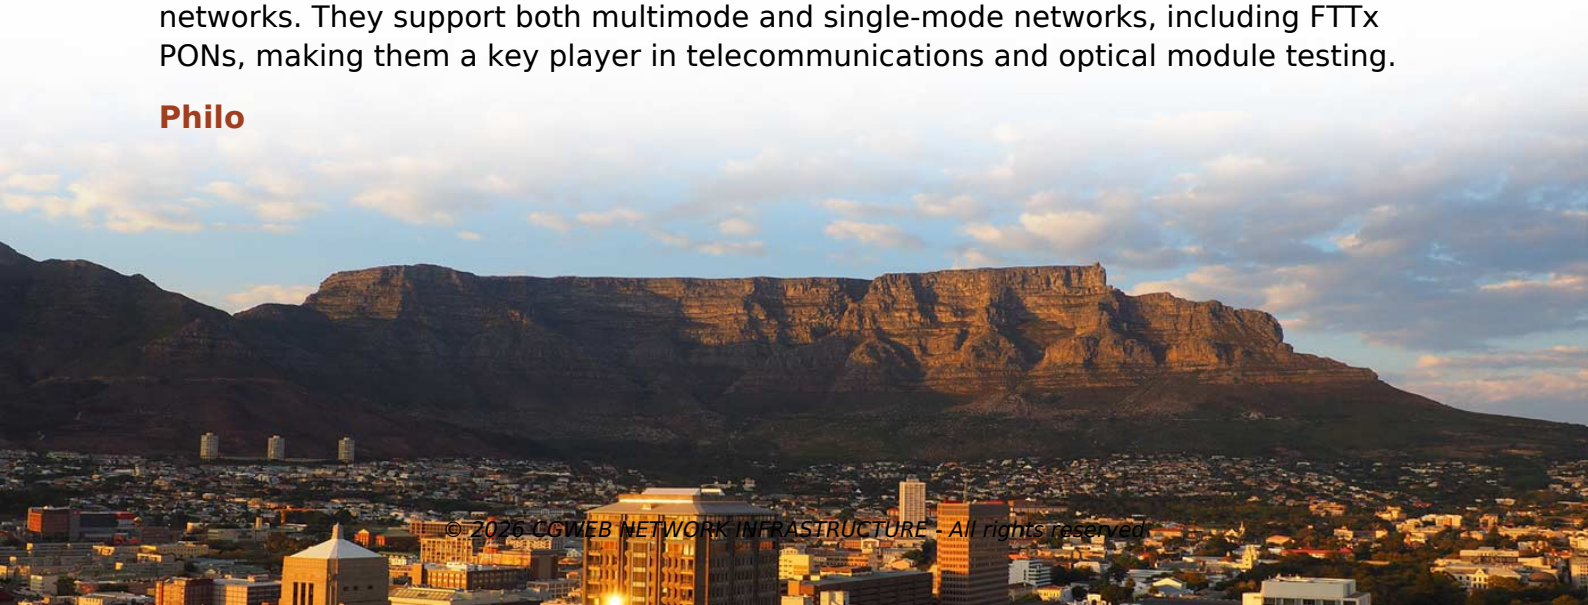

Top optical module and ophthalmic equipment manufacturers in Sri Lanka include George Gooneratne Optometrists, Optima Technologies, and PhiloBiotics, offering advanced optical solutions and fiber optic products.

Leading Manufacturers

George Gooneratne Optometrists is a pioneer in Sri Lanka's optical industry, operating for over 50 years. They manufacture a wide range of optical products locally, including lenses with multi-coating capabilities, and supply opticians across the country through their 18 branches and wholesale outlets. Their production facilities, including a large-scale Multi Coating Plant, ensure high-quality optical products.

Optima Technologies specializes in advanced network testing solutions, particularly Optical Time Domain Reflectometers (OTDRs) and fault locators for fiber optic networks. They support both multimode and single-mode networks, including FTTx PONs, making them a key player in telecommunications and optical module testing.
